

ROADHOUSE STORYTELLERS

November 16, 2017 7:00-9:00 PM

Pittsboro Roadhouse Cafe

Beginning at 7:00 PM, five librarian and former librarian storytellers will entertain you at the renowned Pittsboro Roadhouse on US 64 in downtown Pittsboro. Plan to get there by 6:30 to order your dinner and first round of drinks before the stories begin. There is no cover charge (!), but there will be a tip bucket. Our storytellers tell edgy but family friendly, true stories from their own experiences as librarians. Librarians are truly heroes! Come hear them tell their tales.

Casey Nees has been telling stories since he was a wee lad in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Growing up without access to television meant storytelling was a necessity. Casey's love of storytelling and theater led to a Master's in Library and Information Science. For 3 years Casey has been on the road with his one man show, The Insane Science of Fairyland. You can see his show at the upcoming Shakori Hills Festival and at NC Pepperfest. www.caseyslaughandlearn.com

Cynthia Moore Brown has been an acclaimed performer and educator for over three decades in North Carolina, across the South, and in Europe. She is the star of stage, television, & radio. She retired after 30 years of being a librarian at Greensboro Public Library, then a K-5 Art Specialist. She is co-founder of the NC Storytelling Guild. Her books include Pirates and Ghost Stories of the Carolinas, Folktales and Ghost stories of North Carolina's Piedmont and Folklore and Food. She has a CD, "Ghost Stories in the Graveyard." www.folkteller.com

Gretchen McNeely is a seasoned performer with a background in sketch, improvisation, stand-up, voiceover, radio and humor writing. She is currently a comic, storyteller, event host and corporate speaker. Gretchen has two young daughters, both already skilled in feigned innocence and misdirection. www.facebook.com/GretchenMcNeely/

Tracy Sue Walker is a librarian and storyteller in North Georgia. She shares stories throughout the southeast, especially at schools and libraries, and in workshops. She's usually pretty quiet. Unless she's telling a story, then she can be pretty loud. Please visit her website at www.tracytales.com

Cynthia Raxter, is the producer of Bynum Front Porch Storytelling and the Bynum Comedy Workshop. She tells stories "from here to Miami." She grew up on a farm in the NC mountains with six brothers and sisters. She lives in Bynum with "too many shoes, never enough books but exactly: the right number of cats." cynthiaraxter.blogspot.com

Sam Pearsall, tonight's emcee, is the producer of Roadhouse Storytellers. He's a retired ecologist who grew up on screened porch stories, and has been telling stories all his life. Sam's motto: With every good story, the further in you go, the bigger it gets. SamStories.org
